

Minding Marines

Blue green
chromis
*(Chromis viridis)

Clown fish *(Amphiprion ocellaris)

White tail
dascyllus
*(Dascyllus aruanus)

Fish are animals and need care and attention for life. To own any animal, it must be a carefully considered decision.

You won't be able to set up any aquarium "in one go"; it takes time, care, the correct equipment and knowledge. Always be prepared to ask your local OATA retailer for advice.

These fish come from the sea and will not survive in tapwater; they must be kept in saltwater.

No fish will survive if "rescued" by flushing down the toilet. Far from being kind, it is cruel to do so.

The aquarium industry plays an important part in providing livelihoods on coral reefs.

The majority of clownfish are produced in hatcheries.

Your hobby makes a positive contribution to coral reef conservation.

The 3 most popular tropical marine fish - United Nations Environment Programme "From Ocean to Aquarium" report.*

